DONE MUCH BUSINESS

But the Session Last Night was a Short One.

BOARD OF IMPROVEMENT REPORT

The Salary Ordinance was not Discussed, but Other Business of Importance was Transacted—Some Objection to the Deputy Marshal's Salary.

Council convened in regular session last night promptly at 7:45, with Members Marshall, Purinton, Challis, Peake and Horwell present. After the reading of the minutes, business was started and went through with a rush.

Resolutions declaring it necessary to build a brick walk on Greasy street were read for the second time, as were also the resolutions to improve Trenton street and the ordinance to improve Nemo and Peach Tree alleys.

Next came the salary ordinance of Mr. Stewart, but as the committee made no report, it went over to its third reading without discussion. Then the ordinance introduced by Mr. Peake was taken up, and Mr. Peake said: "I see the newspapers say that is my ordinance. I only introduced it by request. I do not want to father it. I think this thing should go to a vote of the people." Clerk Hanley then read Solicitor Clark's report on the question, which is as follows:

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 11, 1896. To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN:—The enclosed paper has been referred to me for an opinion. Under the circumstances you will readily see that I have but little time to investigate. I am prepared however to say that I have no doubt that we are, under the law, a city of the second class, third grade, and that you are empowered to pass the ordinance in question if you see fit.

I know much has been said about Judge Voris' opinion, but unfortunately for him he has been reversed by the supreme court of Ohio.

So to the policy of passing this ordinance I have nothing to say. That question belongs exclusively to the legislative branch of the city, which is yourselves.

You may or may not take the steps, and still our business will be conducted legally. I am, respectfully yours, A. H. CLARK, City Solicitor.

Mr. Purinton then moved it be laid on the table and was seconded by Peake. Purinton said: "My reasons for doing this is to kill the ordinance. It is for the people to say whether they shall have an additional tax of three mills." The council was unanimous on the subject, and the ordinance was killed, and as far as council is concerned, East Liverpool will not become a city of the second class third grade at present.

Communications from the mayor and city solicitor in regard to the returning of the fine and costs in the McFadden case were then read. As an important witness is out of town and nobody seems to know where he is, there being no chance of the case coming to trial again, they were both of the opinion that the amount, $125.51, should be placed on the pay ordinance, which council proceeded to do without any discussion. McFadden is one of the persons who was found guilty of illegal liquor-selling in this city, but had the decision reversed when the case was taken to a higher court.

The reports were then taken up and the first on the list was that of Fire Chief Adam, who reported five runs since his last report and the using of chemicals in every case. The apparatus is in good shape, having been well cleaned after each of the runs. Commissioner Welsh reported the cleaning of gutters and streets as the principal part of his work the past month. The treasurer's report came next and he reported the city's finances as follows: General, $839.36; street, $491.54; wharf, $183.43; fire, $789.58; police, $682.85; light, $1101.14; sinking, $2754.02; interest, $1942.03; sanitary, $255.98; bridge, $111.48. The mayor reported $33.00 in fines and licenses collected during the past month.

The pay ordinance was then taken up and Marshall called Horwell to the chair and said: "Before I vote on the pay ordinance I would like to know when council fixed the salary of deputy marshal. If a resolution was passed by council fixing his salary, I would not object to giving him the same as the marshal receives. I have nothing against him. I think the first thing that should be done in his case is to obey the law, and the law fixes no salary for him."

Mr. Purinton here introduced a resolution which read: "Be it resolved that the deputy marshal, during his continuance in office, be paid the sum of $55 per month." "I move it be adopted," said Mr. Purinton, and was seconded by Mr. Peake.

Stewart—I think that should be made more definite. We may have a deputy marshal at the same time the marshal is on duty, and would not want to pay him $55.

Peake—It seems to me that there is some spite work in this matter. I have been in council for eight or 10 years, and we have employed many deputy marshals, but nothing like this has ever occurred before.

Marshall—I haven't a thing in the world against the present deputy. I am glad he is present tonight to hear this. All I ask is that things be made regular.

Mr. Purinton—With the permission of my second I will insert Mr. Wyman's name in that resolution. The resolution when completed read: "Be it resolved that the deputy marshal, John W. Wyman, during his continuance in office be paid the sum of $55 per month." This was then passed by a unanimous vote.

Marshall—I will still have to object to the pay roll being passed with Wyman's name on it, as this resolution makes no provision for his salary for last month.

Purinton—Has the gentleman done the work? If he has he is entitled to the pay. I move you that Mr. Wyman be paid the sum of $55 for his services the past month. This was seconded by Stewart, and was passed unanimously, and the vexed question was at last disposed of to the entire satisfaction of everybody.

Mr. Purinton here introduced a resolution instructing the engineer to investigate the grade lines of California hollow, over which there is some dispute, and report to council at the next meeting. This was passed and another resolution introduced by the same gentleman was taken up. This resolution asked that the various departments in handing in their reports give an estimate of how much money they need to run them the year through.

Purinton—The object of this is to have an estimate of how much money is needed. It is done in other places and should be done here.

The resolution was then passed and council took up the report of the board of improvements. The first on the list was a resolution declaring it necessary to improve First avenue, East End, the estimated cost to be $1,682.35, of which the city will pay $140. The next was one declaring it necessary to improve Jackson street from Fifth to Seventh streets by grading and paving. Estimated cost $1,345; cost to city $191.16. The others were as follows: To improve Jefferson street from Fifth to Sixth streets. Estimated cost $1,328.20; cost to city $186.50. To improve Monroe street from Fifth to Sixth streets. No estimate was given on this. To improve Huston road, or Bradshaw avenue, from Walnut street to Avondale. Estimated cost $2,391.10; cost to city $387.57. To improve Mulberry street, East End. Estimated cost $640; cost to city $94. To improve Sugar alley from Cook street to High alley; cost to city $10. Engineer George said that the property owners on this alley were very anxious to have it improved at once, and wanted permission of council to go ahead and grade it. Mr. Purinton said he thought such permission had been granted them, but moved that the resolution in regard to the alley be adopted, and it was passed, all members voting in the affirmative. This being disposed of, council went on with the improvement resolutions, there being but one more to dispose of—to improve Pennsylvania avenue by grading and curbing. No estimate was given on this improvement.

A motion was then made to grant Harker's the privilege of placing a stone wall at the edge of the curbing on Cook street until the city needs the ground. This was passed and council was ready to adjourn, but before they adjourned Mr. Stewart said:

"We are having a great deal of trouble with our street lights. We need more lights, but have not the money to pay for them. I move that a committee be appointed to act in conjunction with the water works trustees, as to the advisability of owning our own plant."

It was adopted, and President Marshall appointed Stewart, Horwell and Purinton as a committee. Council then adjourned, after transacting a great deal of business in a short time.

Want a Member. Residents of East End are talking of putting a candidate in the field for school board. They think that their claims for representation in the city board of education is good, as there has never been a member elected from that part of the city.

TRAFFIC WAS DELAYED

An Accident on C. & P. Holds Passenger Trains.

A CAR OF SAND WAS DERAILED

The Wreck Train, After Considerable Difficulty, Succeeded in Placing the Car on the Track Again—Caused Very Little Damage.

An accident occurred on the railroad at the crossing just this side of Golding's flint mill near the glass works last yesterday afternoon. The pony was switching some cars off upon the siding at the flint mill when the flange of a wheel of an open car, heavily loaded with sand, got caught on the point of the switch, resulting in the derailing of the car. The wreck train was summoned from Wellsville, and an effort put forth to replace the car on the track. The task was no easy one, however, owing to the heavy load that the car contained, and it was only after three hours of combined exertion on the part of the employees, with the assistance of raising jacks, that the work was accomplished. Traffic was delayed until about half past seven o'clock, city time, when the track was then clear. The train due here at 4:20 combined with the 6:10 train, eastward bound, and formed one section. A number of passengers, stopping at this point, left the cars and came up on the electric line. This is the first accident that has occurred on the road for many months.

SURPRISED MR. MOORE.

The Sons of St. George Remembers One of Its Members.

The Sons of St. George pleasantly surprised one of its members, Henry K. Moore, at his home in the West End, last night. Some 30 members were present, and the occasion was made one long to be remembered. Mr. Moore was presented with an elegant life size crayon portrait of himself and an illuminated diploma of his membership, handsomely framed. Councilman E. J. Owen was called upon to make the presentation speech and, although taken unawares, he responded ably, and touchingly referred to the appreciation and good fellowship in which the aged member was held. Mr. Moore was almost overcome and warmly expressed thanks for their kindness. A number of speeches were made and the rest of the evening was spent in songs and recitations. Mr. Moore is a charter member of the lodge.

UNION DEFENDERS' DAY

Was Commemorated by the Sons of Veterans Last Night.

The Sons of Veterans celebrated Lincoln Day at their hall last night. The regular order of business was first transacted, as it was their regular meeting night, after which the banquet was served. Captain Davis made the opening address, and was followed by N. T. Ashbaugh, who read "Emerson's Essay on Lincoln." The next on the program was the singing of "America," after which Criss McConnell read Lincoln's famous address at Gettysburg. Addresses were made by O. C. Vodrey, Walter B. Hill, and other members of the camp. The program was very instructive as well as entertaining. Mr. McConnell will leave on Monday for Hillsboro, where he will represent the local camp at the division encampment which convenes at that place Feb. 18.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Motorman Allison Had an Experience That He Will Not Forget in a Hurry.

"The car in charge of Motorman Allison had a narrow escape from being damaged late yesterday afternoon at the loop in the East End. The car had just passed around the loop when a large maple tree, standing on the bank above, fell, just missing the car. The storm of the evening had loosened the tree from its roots, which were decayed, and it fell, dragging the net work of wires down with it. Allison shudders at the thought of what might have happened; had the tree fallen a moment before, he might have been killed. Manager Gilchrist and Superintendent Andrews had a force of men engaged in making repairs until late last night, when the damaged wires were placed in position again.

THE BOOK OF HOLY WRIT.

A Prominent Citizen Wants it Barred From the Schools.

The citizen above referred to is well known in East Liverpool, and is a man of influence. He is emphatic in his belief that the Bible should be barred from the public schools, and argues after this manner: "Suppose the matter should be left to the voters of East Liverpool, and a majority of voters were Presbyterians, and that all these Presbyterians voted in favor of reading the Bible in the schools, would it not be unfair to the voters of other denominations, who might vote against the reading, and would not Presbyterian doctrine be taught in the schools?"

The prominent citizen made a sad mistake in his summing up of his case, as he builded up a straw man and then proceeded to knock him down, and was evidently of the opinion that the matter was settled for all time. In the first place his argument was unreasonable, for the reason that such a supposition was not likely to materialize. In the next place, the bible is not exclusively Presbyterian, and other denominations claim an equal interest in the book of books. And, lastly, no one has as yet advised that the bible shall be taught and expounded in the public schools. The claim has simply been made that the book of books shall be read in the public schools.

HAS DISAPPEARED.

An East Liverpool Boy Decides to Leave His Home.

The following article is taken from the Wellsville Standard of yesterday: Edward Conners, the widely known saggermaker of East Liverpool, was in the city this morning in search of his son, Edward Conners, Jr. It is said that the young man came to this city yesterday, preparatory to leaving for parts unknown. He visited Wellsville quite often and is generally known here. He was quite "flush" with money and expected to leave, to be abroad for some time. We learn that he bought a ticket for Pittsburg, but no further information can be obtained. His father has Officer Meehan on his trail, but no clue as to his whereabouts have been obtained. Mr. Conners, when seen, said that he had no idea where his son was, but thought he had gone away with some other small boys from this city.

A STATE INFIRMARY.

The Legislature to be Petitioned For an Appropriation.

Petition blanks are being sent to all infirmary directors in this state for signatures petitioning the legislature to build a state institution for the incurably insane, epileptic and idiotic. Ex-Superintendent E. D. McIntire, of Wayne county infirmary, has the matter in hand, and had the necessary blanks printed to send out in time to be returned to Henry Bixler, of Middlebranch, Stark county, and then forwarded to the legislature. Many of the infirmaries of the county are so overcrowded with the aged and infirm that the officials do not know what to do.

SCORCHED HIS WHISKERS.

Janitor Henry Hunt Had a Lively Experience.

Mr. Henry Hunt, janitor of the First M. E. church of this city, had a lively experience this morning. He was engaged about the heater, when, from some unexplainable cause, a flash issued therefrom, bowling Mr. Hunt over as if he had received a right hander from the fist of John L. Sullivan, scorching his whiskers and blinding him momentarily. The aged gentleman found it necessary to have his whiskers trimmed, but he does not believe that he has sustained serious injuries, as he feels confident that he did not inhale the flames.

SHE WARMED HIM UP.

A Drummer Becomes Too Free and Easy With a Second Street Woman.

An unprincipled drummer called on a second street woman the other day and offered for sale an article that he wished to dispose of. During the course of the conversation that followed, the drummer ventured a few indelicate remarks. The indignation of the lady knew no bounds, and grasping a kettle of hot water she threw the contents of it on him. He made a hasty exit and will never go there any more.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

The Y. M. C. A. Directors Will Take Action on the George Property.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian association will meet tonight to take action in regard to the purchase of a suitable location for the association. That a deal for the George property may not be consummated is borne out by the fact that one of the directors will bring before the board a proposition to purchase another site, well located and adapted to the purpose required.

Indorsed W. L. Smith.

By a unanimous vote the delegates from Wellsville to the congressional convention of the Eighteenth district, which were selected at a caucus held Monday night, were instructed to vote for W. L. Smith, of this city, as delegate to the national convention.

A partnership signed at Columbiana in 1893, for the purpose of threshing grain, got into court today beside going into the hands of a receiver. Simon T. Harold and Barton Betrow filed an action against George W. Cane, and state in their petition that last December they notified defendant that they wished a settlement prior to the signing of the partnership; that they had since been unable to come to any terms concerning the disposition of their part of the property, which amounts to something over $500.

Judge McCartney, of Canton, will hold court here on Saturday, commencing at 1 o'clock.

The case of R. D. Wright against John W. Wyman, sheriff, was to have been heard here yesterday, but the plaintiff died at his home north of town, yesterday, from an attack of pneumonia.

Inquiry at clerk's office in regard to the saloonkeepers from East Liverpool that had been indicted by the last grand jury, met with the answer that the clerk was not at liberty to divulge the names of any except the ones given out yesterday, as all the notices have not yet been served.

STOLE SHOES.

Two Young Men Purloin Shoes on Saturday Night.

The shoe store of Frank, Shoemaker & Co. was robbed of two pair of shoes on last Saturday night by two young men. The theft was discovered and it was ascertained who the guilty parties were, and one of the young men was sent for. When he reached the store he was showed the evidence, and immediately broke down and confessed his guilt. He pled that he would not be prosecuted, as he stated that it would break his father's heart. The shoes were returned and the young men let go. Their names are known, but are withheld from the public out of sympathy for their parents.

HAD A CONFERENCE.

Members of Board of Health Called on Superintendent Sanor.

Messrs. Kauffman, King and Chambers, of the board of health, called on Superintendent Sanor, of the public schools, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was purely informal, and the question that is causing so much agitation in the East End, as was exclusively detailed in the News Review last night, was the subject of discussion. The superintendent informed the gentlemen that he was giving the matter his attention and that a thorough investigation was being personally conducted by himself.

BILLS WERE LARGE

At the Township Trustees Office Last Month.

The bills at the township trustees office last month were larger than they have been at any time since the strike. The cause for this was the number of sick people that are being cared for by the trustees. The recent cold weather did not bring a rush of business, as it did not last long enough.

Mr. Moore was almost overcome and warmly expressed thanks for their kindness. A number of speeches were made and the rest of the evening was spent in songs and recitations. Mr. Moore is a charter member of the lodge.

UNION DEFENDERS' DAY

Was Commemorated by the Sons of Veterans Last Night.

The Sons of Veterans celebrated Lincoln Day at their hall last night. The regular order of business was first transacted, as it was their regular meeting night, after which the banquet was served. Captain Davis made the opening address, and was followed by N. T. Ashbaugh, who read "Emerson's Essay on Lincoln." The next on the program was the singing of "America," after which Criss McConnell read Lincoln's famous address at Gettysburg. Addresses were made by O. C. Vodey, Walter B. Hill, and other members of the camp. The program was very instructive as well as entertaining. Mr. McConnell will leave on Monday for Hillsboro, where he will represent the local camp at the division encampment which convenes at that place Feb. 18.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Motorman Allison Had an Experience That He Will Not Forget in a Hurry.

The car in charge of Motorman Allison had a narrow escape from being damaged late yesterday afternoon at the loop in the East End. The car had just passed around the loop when a large maple tree, standing on the bank above, fell, just missing the car. The storm of the evening had loosened the tree from its roots, which were decayed, and it fell, dragging the net work of wires down with it. Allison shudders at the thought of what might have happened; had the tree fallen a moment before, he might have been killed. Manager Gilchrist and Superintendent Andrews had a force of men engaged in making repairs until late last night, when the damaged wires were placed in position again.

THE BOOK OF HOLY WRIT.

A Prominent Citizen Wants it Barred From the Schools.

The citizen above referred to is well known in East Liverpool, and is a man of influence. He is emphatic in his belief that the Bible should be barred from the public schools, and argues after this manner:

"Suppose the matter should be left to the voters of East Liverpool, and a majority of voters were Presbyterians, and that all these Presbyterians voted in favor of reading the Bible in the schools, would it not be unfair to the voters of other denominations, who might vote against the reading, and would not Presbyterian doctrine be taught in the schools?"

The prominent citizen made a sad mistake in his summing up of his case, as he builded up a straw man and then proceeded to knock him down, and was evidently of the opinion that the matter was settled for all time. In the first place his argument was unreasonable, for the reason that such a supposition was not likely to materialize. In the next place, the bible is not exclusively Presbyterian, and other denominations claim an equal interest in the book of books. And, lastly, no one has as yet advised that the bible shall be taught and expounded in the public schools. The claim has simply been made that the book of books shall be read in the public schools.

HAS DISAPPEARED.

An East Liverpool Boy Decides to Leave His Home.

The following article is taken from the Wellsville Standard of yesterday: Edward Conners, the widely known saggermaker of East Liverpool, was in the city this morning in search of his son, Edward Conners, Jr. It is said that the young man came to this city yesterday, preparatory to leaving for parts unknown. He visited Wellsville quite often and is generally known here. He was quite "flush" with money and expected to leave, to be abroad for some time. We learn that he bought a ticket for Pittsburg, but no further information can be obtained. His father has Officer Meehan on his trail, but no clue as to his whereabouts have been obtained. Mr. Conners, when seen, said that he had no idea where his son was, but thought he had gone away with some other small boys from this city.

A STATE INFIRMARY.

The Legislature to be Petitioned For an Appropriation.

Petition blanks are being sent to all infirmary directors in this state for signatures petitioning the legislature to build a state institution for the incurably insane, epileptic and idiotic. Ex-Superintendent E. D. McIntire, of Wayne county infirmary, has the matter in hand, and had the necessary blanks printed to send out in time to be returned to Henry Bixler, of Middlebranch, Stark county, and then forwarded to the legislature. Many of the infirmaries of the county are so overcrowded with the aged and infirm that the officials do not know what to do.

SCORCHED HIS WHISKERS.

Janitor Henry Hunt Had a Lively Experience.

Mr. Henry Hunt, janitor of the First M. E. church of this city, had a lively experience this morning. He was engaged about the heater, when, from some unexplainable cause, a flash issued therefrom, bowling Mr. Hunt over as if he had received a right hander from the fist of John L. Sullivan, scorching his whiskers and blinding him momentarily. The aged gentleman found it necessary to have his whiskers trimmed, but he does not believe that he has sustained serious injuries, as he feels confident that he did not inhale the flames.

SHE WARMED HIM UP.

A Drummer Becomes Too Free and Easy With a Second Street Woman.

An unprincipled drummer called on a second street woman the other day and offered for sale an article that he wished to dispose of. During the course of the conversation that followed, the drummer ventured a few indelicate remarks. The indignation of the lady knew no bounds, and grasping a kettle of hot water she threw the contents of it on him. He made a hasty exit and will never go there any more.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

The Y. M. C. A. Directors Will Take Action on the George Property.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian association will meet tonight to take action in regard to the purchase of a suitable location for the association. That a deal for the George property may not be consummated is borne out by the fact that one of the directors will bring before the board a proposition to purchase another site, well located and adapted to the purpose required.

Indorsed W. L. Smith.

By a unanimous vote the delegates from Wellsville to the congressional convention of the Eighteenth district, which were selected at a caucus held Monday night, were instructed to vote for W. L. Smith, of this city, as delegate to the national convention.

NEWS FROM LISBON

State versus Wayne Morgan; state versus John Sykes, two cases; state versus Henry Bergham; state versus Oscar Hendricks; state versus Al Rutter, two cases; state versus David Barnhart, four cases; state versus Frank Schriver, two cases; state versus Thomas Edwards; state versus Isaac Williams. A partnership signed at Columbiana in 1893, for the purpose of threshing grain, got into court today beside going into the hands of a receiver. Simon T. Harold and Barton Betrow filed an action against George W. Cane, and state in their petition that last December they notified defendant that they wished a settlement prior to the signing of the partnership; that they had since been unable to come to any terms concerning the disposition of their part of the property, which amounts to something over $500.

Judge McCartney, of Canton, will hold court here on Saturday, commencing at 1 o'clock.

The case of R. D. Wright against John W. Wyman, sheriff, was to have been heard here yesterday, but the plaintiff died at his home north of town, yesterday, from an attack of pneumonia.

Inquiry at clerk's office in regard to the saloonkeepers from East Liverpool that had been indicted by the last grand jury, met with the answer that the clerk was not at liberty to divulge the names of any except the ones given out yesterday, as all the notices have not yet been served.

STOLE SHOES.

Two Young Men Purloin Shoes on Saturday Night.

The shoe store of Frank, Shoemaker & Co. was robbed of two pair of shoes on last Saturday night by two young men. The theft was discovered and it was ascertained who the guilty parties were, and one of the young men was sent for. When he reached the store he was showed the evidence, and immediately broke down and confessed his guilt. He pleaded that he would not be prosecuted, as he stated that it would break his father's heart. The shoes were returned and the young men let go. Their names are known, but are withheld from the public out of sympathy for their parents.

HAD A CONFERENCE.

Members of Board of Health Called on Superintendent Sanor.

Messrs. Kauffman, King and Chambers, of the board of health, called on Superintendent Sanor, of the public schools, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was purely informal, and the question that is causing so much agitation in the East End, as was exclusively detailed in the News Review last night, was the subject of discussion. The superintendent informed the gentlemen that he was giving the matter his attention and that a thorough investigation was being personally conducted by himself.

BILLS WERE LARGE

At the Township Trustees Office Last Month.

The bills at the township trustees office last month were larger than they have been at any time since the strike. The cause for this was the number of sick people that are being cared for by the trustees. The recent cold weather did not bring a rush of business, as it did not last long enough.

Will Attend a Banquet.

P. F. Specht received an invitation to attend a banquet given in New York City next week by the officials of an insurance company. Mr. Specht will leave on Tuesday.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 12.

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

Don't dodge vital issues. Have the courage of your convictions and act well the part of a good citizen.

THE Republican primaries are rapidly approaching. Pick out your man, and make a wise choice. There are good men in the field, and there is no necessity for your taking Hobson's choice.

We are glad to note it. There came to this city, a few days since, a good-looking young tramp. He announced his willingness to work for his boarding until an opportunity to secure wages was presented. He was in earnest, as he is now working faithfully for a resident of East Liverpool, his remuneration being merely his meals. Tell it not to Weary Willie, as it might result in the worker's assassination.

THE office of street commissioner of East Liverpool is a far more important one than the average voter judges it to be, and a good man and true should be elected to the position. The street commissioner has it in his power to make it very pleasant for those residing in the city limits, and voters should make it a point to place in that office some one who will attend to the duty in the very best manner possible, taking into consideration the limited conveniences allowed him by the average city dad.

ENFORCE THE LAWS.

There should be good work done in this particular line in East Liverpool. There are ordinances which will not bear close scrutiny upon the part of minds thoroughly conversant with legal lore, and this fact has been discovered when cases, tried and such ordinances, have been appealed, carried to the higher court at Lisbon, and the action of the lower court or municipality, reversed. Gross ignorance of law and the statutes of the commonwealth must be the cause of this, or else the other horn of the dilemma, collusion with law breakers, must be accepted as the controlling cause.

Neither of these excuses, if such they can be called, should be allowed to control in East Liverpool. Intelligent, honest, law-abiding and order loving citizens should be nominated at the coming primaries, and none other should be entrusted with office. But we have some good laws in this municipality, and they should be enforced. We find, by the late returns from Lisbon, that a large number of the men engaged in the saloon business in this city are not law-abiding citizens, and their actions show that they are doing everything in their power to defeat the ends of justice. Such men should be called to a strict account and made to pay the penalty of outraged law. The licensed saloon is made a legal venture by the legislators of Ohio, and when the proprietor of a saloon conforms to the law, he is fully entitled to protection at the hands of the law, just the same as the dry goods merchant, shoe merchant, grocer, hardware dealer and business men in general. But when he resorts to illegal measures he should be punished, just the same as the other business men would be were they transgressors against the law and ordinances. But the average saloon-keeper, knowing the law, breaks the same, and then cries out that he is persecuted when detection and punishment follows. Let him act within legal bounds or else face the music and own up like a little man when the search lights result in his exposure. Enforce the law, Mayor Gilbert and Chief Wyman. Turn on the light.

MISS BRYAN'S LAST CRY

Heard by a Lady Going Home In Her Carriage.

LULU MAY HOLLINGSWORTH LIED.

The Indianapolis Girl Released as Her Stories Are False—Almost a Certainty That Scott Jackson Murdered the Poor Girl by Beheading Her.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—Not a step of progress has been made toward the solution of the Pearl Bryan tragedy. It has been clearly established that Pearl Bryan confidently put herself into the hands of her betrayer, Scott Jackson, on Monday night, Jan. 27, trusting him to save her and her family from mortification and shame. It was a case of the fly going to the spider for deliverance. Where the too credulous girl stayed on Monday night and Tuesday night, Jan. 27 and 28, is known beyond a doubt. Where she slept Wednesday and Thursday nights, Jan. 29 and 30, have remained missing links up to the present writing. On Thursday forenoon and Friday night she was seen. With these exceptions, her whole history from Wednesday morning, when she left the Indiana House, up to Saturday morning, when her unknown headless body was found, remains a blank mystery.

The story of Miss Hollingsworth seeing her in Indianapolis on Jan. 28, is exploded by the established fact that she was here on both the 27th and 28th. Two careful postmortem examinations absolutely exclude abortion, actual or attempted, as well as death by poisoning. The universal belief here is that the Indianapolis girl is romancing. The knife cuts on the poor girl's hand made while struggling for life with her murderers, and the pool of blood where she lay, set at rest the theory that she was first killed by anesthetics and then taken out and beheaded.

A Kentucky woman going home in her carriage late Friday night heard a woman's scream followed by silence near Fort Thomas. Men in Covington and Newport, Ky., remember seeing a vehicle passing at an unusually late hour Friday night driven at great speed. Detectives are working these clues. Not a trace of the head has been found.

An Indianapolis special says: After doing more or less talking Lulu May Hollingsworth, who has made herself notorious by her alleged knowledge of the Pearl Bryan murder, has been released from police headquarters. Police Superintendent Collier says that he is satisfied that the girl has been lying all the way through, and as the Cincinnati police say that they do not want her, the Indianapolis police have no further use for her.

BOTH SIDES LYING LOW.

No Definite Developments in the Kentucky Senatorial Race.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 12.—There is every indication that both sides are lying low in the senatorial race. The Republicans do not think that Senator Ogilvie, who is quite sick, can stand the strain much longer. His son said that he was not going to allow his father to jeopardize his life much further, and if something does not happen in the senatorial ballot this week he will take his father home Sunday.

A call of the roll showed 122 members present and voting; necessary to choice, 62. There were seven pairs. The ballot resulted: Hunter, 57; Blackburn, 56; Carlisle, 2; McCreary, 3; B. F. Bennett, 1; I. M. Cochran, 1; Bate, 1; Holt, 1.

Hunter's friends declare that if he cannot be elected no other Republican shall.

FRENCH CABINET TOTTERS.

Bourgeois' Ministry May Fall Like That of Ribot.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The senate by a vote of 168 to 85 has rejected the demand of M. Bourgeois, the premier, for a vote of confidence on the question of the Southern railway scandals. The senate then adopted a resolution deprecating the irregularities and demanding a searching inquiry. The cabinet met afterward and decided not to resign, but to endeavor to obtain a vote of confidence in the chamber tomorrow.

The Bourgeois cabinet was formed in November last, in succession to the Ribot cabinet, which came to its fall on this same question of an investigation of the Southern railway scandals.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Workman School Law Repealed in the House—Other Measures Considered.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—The house has passed the bill repealing the Workman school law, which provided for one director in each sub-district and re-elected the old law which provides for three directors. This gives each sub-district a chance to select its own teacher, whereas under the Workman law the township board selected all the teachers and very often disregarded the wishes of the sub-districts.

FIVE WORKMEN INJURED.

A Bridge Collapses Near Cleveland—Excursionists' Narrow Escape.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—Three temporary spans of a new bridge being erected across Tinkers creek for the Akron, Bedford and Cleveland Electric railroad, 10 miles south of this city, has fallen, precipitating eight workmen into the creek, a distance of 65 feet.

The names of the victims are: William Newman, Canton, arm crushed and left leg torn apart at the knee joint, head bruised and internally injured, cannot recover; Charles Geib, Canton, seriously injured internally; J. C. McMillan, Twinsburg, left foot crushed and badly hurt internally; Charles McCarty, Canton, bruised; James Ercman, Cleveland, ribs broken and side crushed.

Newman fell in the creek under the timbers, and had not one of the other men held his head above water he would have been drowned. The engineer in charge of the work is unable to account for the accident. The bridge was being constructed on the site of the one which fell under an electric car a short time since, fatally injuring two employees of the road. Work on the temporary structure was being pushed, as it was intended to begin the running of cars over it tomorrow morning, when several carloads of excursionists were coming to Cleveland from Akron.

Dynamite on a Bridge.

DEPIANCE, O., Feb. 12.—A stick of dynamite weighing fully one pound has been picked up on the B. & O. bridge over the Auglaize river. The explosive had been placed on the rail, but had been jarred off by the approach of a passenger train. The bridge is one of the highest in this division of the road, and had the dynamite remained on the track the train and structure would have been blown to atoms. The road has sent detectives here to investigate the matter.

There should be good work done in this particular line in East Liverpool. There are ordinances which will not bear close scrutiny upon the part of minds thoroughly conversant with legal lore, and this fact has been discovered when cases, tried and such ordinances, have been appealed, carried to the higher court at Lisbon, and the action of the lower court or municipality, reversed. Gross ignorance of law and the statutes of the commonwealth must be the cause of this, or else the other horn of the dilemma, collusion with law breakers, must be accepted as the controlling cause. Neither of these excuses, if such they can be called, should be allowed to control in East Liverpool. Intelligent, honest, law-abiding and order loving citizens should be nominated at the coming primaries, and none other should be entrusted with office. But we have some good laws in this municipality, and they should be enforced. We find, by the late returns from Lisbon, that a large number of the men engaged in the saloon business in this city are not law-abiding citizens, and their actions show that they are doing everything in their power to defeat the ends of justice. Such men should be called to a strict account and made to pay the penalty of outraged law. The licensed saloon is made a legal venture by the legislators of Ohio, and when the proprietor of a saloon conforms to the law, he is fully entitled to protection at the hands of the law, just the same as the dry goods merchant, shoe merchant, grocer, hardware dealer and business men in general. But when he resorts to illegal measures he should be punished, just the same as the other business men would be were they transgressors against the law and ordinances. But the average saloon-keeper, knowing the law, breaks the same, and then cries out that he is persecuted when detection and punishment follows. Let him act within legal bounds or else face the music and own up like a little man when the search lights result in his exposure. Enforce the law, Mayor Gilbert and Chief Wyman. Turn on the light.

MISS BRYAN'S LAST CRY

Heard by a Lady Going Home In Her Carriage.

LULU MAY HOLLINGSWORTH LIED.

The Indianapolis Girl Released as Her Story Are False—Almost a Certainty That Scott Jackson Murdered the Poor Girl by Beheading Her.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—Not a step of progress has been made toward the solution of the Pearl Bryan tragedy. It has been clearly established that Pearl Bryan confidently put herself into the hands of her betrayer, Scott Jackson, on Monday night, Jan. 27, trusting him to save her and her family from mortification and shame. It was a case of the fly going to the spider for deliverance. Where the too credulous girl stayed on Monday night and Tuesday night, Jan. 27 and 28, is known beyond a doubt. Where she slept Wednesday and Thursday nights, Jan. 29 and 30, has remained missing links up to the present writing. On Thursday forenoon and Friday night she was seen. With these exceptions, her whole history from Wednesday morning, when she left the Indiana House, up to Saturday morning, when her unknown headless body was found, remains a blank mystery.

The story of Miss Hollingsworth, seeing her in Indianapolis on Jan. 28, is exploded by the established fact that she was here on both the 27th and 28th. Two careful postmortem examinations absolutely exclude abortion, actual or attempted, as well as death by poisoning. The universal belief here is that the Indianapolis girl is romancing. The knife cuts on the poor girl's hand made while struggling for life with her murderers, and the pool of blood where she lay, set at rest the theory that she was first killed by anesthetics and then taken out and beheaded.

A Kentucky woman going home in her carriage late Friday night heard a woman's scream followed by silence near Fort Thomas. Men in Covington and Newport, Ky., remember seeing a vehicle passing at an unusually late hour Friday night driven at great speed. Detectives are working these clues. Not a trace of the head has been found.

An Indianapolis special says: After doing more or less talking Lulu May Hollingsworth, who has made herself notorious by her alleged knowledge of the Pearl Bryan murder, has been released from police headquarters. Police Superintendent Collier says that he is satisfied that the girl has been lying all the way through, and as the Cincinnati police say that they do not want her, the Indianapolis police have no further use for her.

BOTH SIDES LYING LOW.

No Definite Developments in the Kentucky Senatorial Race.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 12.—There is every indication that both sides are lying low in the senatorial race. The Republicans do not think that Senator Ogilvie, who is quite sick, can stand the strain much longer. His son said that he was not going to allow his father to jeopardize his life much further, and if something does not happen in the senatorial ballot this week he will take his father home Sunday.

A call of the roll showed 123 members present and voting; necessary to choice, 62. There were seven pairs. The ballot resulted: Hunter, 57; Blackburn, 56; Carlisle, 2; McCreary, 3; B. F. Bennett, 1; I. M. Cochran, 1; Bate, 1; Holt, 1.

Hunter's friends declare that if he cannot be elected no other Republican shall.

Bourgeois' Ministry May Fall Like That of Ribot.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The senate by a vote of 158 to 85 has rejected the demand of M. Bourgeois, the premier, for a vote of confidence on the question of the Southern railway scandals. The senate then adopted a resolution deprecating the irregularities and demanding a searching inquiry. The cabinet met afterward and decided not to resign, but to endeavor to obtain a vote of confidence in the chamber tomorrow.

The Bourgeois cabinet was formed in November last, in succession to the Ribot cabinet, which came to its fall on this same question of an investigation of the Southern railway scandals.

FIVE WORKMEN INJURED.

A Bridge Collapses Near Cleveland—Excursionists' Narrow Escape.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—Three temporary spans of a new bridge being erected across Tinkers creek for the Akron, Bedford and Cleveland Electric railroad, 10 miles south of this city, has fallen, precipitating eight workmen into the creek, a distance of 65 feet.

The names of the victims are: William Newman, Canton, arm crushed and left foot torn apart at the knee joint, head bruised and internally injured, cannot recover; Charles Gieb, Canton, seriously injured internally; J. C. McMillan, Twinsburg, left foot crushed and badly hurt internally; Charles McCarty, Canton, bruised; James Freeman, Cleveland, ribs broken and side crushed.

Newman fell in the creek under the timbers, and had not one of the other men held his head above water he would have been drowned. The engineer in charge of the work is unable to account for the accident. The bridge was being constructed on the site of one which fell under an electric car a short time since, fatally injuring two employees of the road. Work on the temporary structure was being pushed, as it was intended to begin the running of cars over it tomorrow morning, when several carloads of excursionists were coming to Cleveland from Akron.

Dynamite on a Bridge.

DEFIANCE, O., Feb. 12.—A stick of dynamite weighing fully one pound has been picked up on the B. & O. bridge over the Auglaize river. The explosive had been placed on the rail, but had been jarred off by the approach of a passenger train. The bridge is one of the highest on this division of the road, and had the dynamite remained on the track the train and structure would have been blown to atoms. The road has sent detectives here to investigate the matter.

MONROE POLICY RIGHT

The Doctrine Upheld In the House of Commons.

PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT CERTAIN.

Sir William Harcourt, the Liberal Leader, Makes a Friendly Speech—Balfour, the Government Leader, Does the Same. Radicals Will Back Up Arbitration.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Radical party of the house of commons has decided to support the general principle of arbitration in any differences arising between Great Britain and the United States.

SIR WILLIAM HARCOURT.

question would be settled at an early date. He added that no words that could impede such a settlement would fall from him.

This remark was greeted with loud cheers, as it disposes of the report that the Liberal leaders had determined to make an attack upon the government's policy in regard to Venezuela, which course necessarily would have led to an exchange of warm remarks, which might have impeded the progress of settlement of the dispute.

Continuing, Sir William Harcourt said that misunderstandings, both in England and in the United States, existed and had caused ruffled feelings on both sides. The idea that America and Great Britain disputed the question of Monroeism was nothing new or extraordinary. Monroeism, he asserted, was not a principle of international law, but one of national policy to which the Americans have a traditional and passionate attachment, and it was the same doctrine by virtue of which Great Britain had interfered in various states when her interests were affected.

Sir William Harcourt also said: "I am in entire agreement with Lord Salisbury when he says the United States have a perfect right to interpose in any controversy by which their own interests are affected and they are entitled to judge whether their interests are affected and in what measure they shall be sustained. That is a general doctrine upon which all states act. Upon this is founded the balance of power and upon that ground Great Britain in many and other places. The Monroe doctrine is not an extension of this principle; it is a limitation of what other states claim to exercise everywhere. President Monroe limited it to the American continent and the United States following the wise teaching of Washington, have declared their disinclination and determination not to interfere in the controversies of the European powers, but they have declared the controversies of the American continent to be of special interest to themselves, and they will judge when and how they are called upon to interfere. That feeling is not disputed in the queen's speech, and I rejoice to see that it states a wish to co-operate with the government of the United States and the only practical question remaining is whether the doctrine has been invaded in the case of Venezuela. The United States have not made any pronouncement upon this question, but have appointed a commission to inform their judgments upon the subject.

"It has been stated that the appointment of this commission was an offense to the people and government of Great Britain. Happily, the government does not take that view. The commission is to inform the government of the United States with co-operation with the United States of America co-operate with us unless they have the information which will enable them to co-operate in settling the boundary.

"I regret the delay in the publication of the English case. I should have thought that before Secretary Olney was answered all the materials would have been ready to lay before the United States and the world at large. We do not desire to claim any territory to which we are not clearly entitled, and the question is, what is that territory? It is the business of the diplomats to come to a reasonable settlement in such matter. Diplomacy has had this matter in hand for half a century and a mighty hand has made of it, in my opinion. It is not creditable that a question of this character should have been allowed to fester until it has broken open into a dangerous sore to breed bad blood between two great nations. It is the first duty of the government to take measures, without delay, to heal this sore. [Loud cheers.]

"What the country demands without distinction of party is that the dispute should be brought to an honorable solution promptly. [Cheers.]

"It is proved that the rights of Venezuela have not been invaded by Great Britain the United States of America will have no cause for complaint. If we have occupied territory to which we have no title we must not make any pretense to maintain that occupation. The question must be settled on the evidence, and what objection can be raised to arbitration of a third party.

"The people of Great Britain and the United States of America have already settled important questions by arbitration, and it cannot be admitted that this question is beyond the reach of arbitration. The government does not reject arbitration, and the only question left is the limitation of the boundary. There is a general desire that justice should be done."

Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and Conservative leader in the house, was loudly cheered when he arose to reply to the Liberal leader. He said:

"Sir William Vernon Harcourt has devoted much time to attacking views which the government has never held. Neither I nor my friends ever said that the Monroe doctrine was one to which we had a right to object. It is of British origin and I do not see any reason why we should criticize it.

"The American commissioners (on the Venezuelan boundary), have applied to us to aid them with any information we are able to give at the earliest possible moment. [Cheers.] No false pride or diplomatic punctilio will be allowed to stand in the way of a settlement as far as we are concerned.

"But there are duties requiring diplomatic enforcement. We owe a duty to our children, our colonies and those occupying them; and this country would not deserve to retain the confidence of the colonies unless we were ready to defend them, and in a case which we are right we should not abandon them. [Cheers.]

"It is impossible to foresee with certainty what will be the general conclusions arrived at by the American commission, or by those called upon to investigate the British claim. But one conclusion, I am certain, will be reached by everyone who impartially investigates, he will be convinced that there has never been the slightest intention on the part of this country to violate the substance or essence of the Monroe doctrine. Whatever other conclusion the commission may arrive at it will most assuredly reach the conclusion that no desire to push beyond the due limit of the frontier of this empire has ever been the animating cause which moved British diplomacy in this long drawn-out controversy.

"If this conclusion be fairly and frankly set before the citizens of the United States one of their gravest preoccupations will be set at rest. They will feel no need to suspect, on the part of this country, anything in the nature of an invasion of a principle of policy which both they and we cherish.

"I should rejoice if, out of this evil, should spring some general system of arbitration. If that were the issue, I should feel that all misunderstandings and evils done had been more than removed, and that a permanent guarantee of good will between the English speaking nations on the two sides of the Atlantic had been attained for all time."

Lord Salisbury, in the house of lords, said that America's mixture in the dispute had conducted to satisfactory results more rapidly than if the United States had not interfered. He believed a peaceful settlement would be reached by arbitration.

OLNEY SAYS WALLER IS GUILTY.

He Thinks the Ex-Consul Is Getting Off Easy, Considering His Offense—He Reports Other Crookedness on the Part of the Kansas Colored Man.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Ambassador East has been instructed to accept the offer of the French government to release ex-United States Consul Waller from further imprisonment and pardon his offense on condition that the affair be thereby terminated as between France and the United States and that the latter make no claim in behalf of the prisoner based upon his arrest, conviction or imprisonment. Waller may, however, sue in the French courts for damages for ill treatment. These facts, showing the amicable termination of the celebrated Waller incident, appear in the correspondence sent to both houses of congress by the president in answer to resolutions of inquiry upon the subject.

Secretary Olney says that there is no doubt whatever of Waller's guilt, that "the evidence fully sustains the charge" and no court could have hesitated to condemn him.

President Cleveland says that Secretary Olney's conclusions "do not appear to admit of any reasonable doubt."

Accompanying the correspondence, which is voluminous, is a report by Secretary Olney, summarizing its features and explaining the reasons which animated the executive in terminating the incident as above described. In the beginning the secretary gives the history of the Crockett case, showing that Waller, while United States consul at Tamate, acting as administrator of the estate of Crockett, a deceased United States citizen, was guilty of maladministration, getting away with $1,961.

Waller tried to have the Hovas punish two American citizens on this (Waller's) charges of being spies, whom he openly avowed he wished to have revenge, which, if carried out, would have meant their death.

He also betrayed the weakness of a French garrison to the Hovas, and says Waller's ten months in a French prison is little enough punishment for his offenses.

If Waller wants to sue for damages in the French courts the United States ambassador has been instructed to give him aid.

The family of Waller being left in destitute circumstances the department instructed the representatives to provide for their present necessities and to furnish them the means of getting to the United States. That relief was accordingly extended to them, the charges to which this government has thus far been put amounting to $1,317.14.

CUBAN REBELS IN THE LEAD.

President Cleveland Submits to Congress Correspondence From U. S. Consuls.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The president has transmitted to the house such correspondence relative to Cuba as he deems not incompatible with the public interest. This was in response to a house resolution.

The papers were voluminous and include over 2,000 letters which passed between Secretary Olney and Senor De Lome, the Spanish minister, Consul General Williams and other consuls.

The correspondence shows that American interests have been protected as well as possible, although Spain cannot be held responsible for the property of Americans destroyed by the rebels, much of which has occurred. As to the arrest of Americans by Spaniards, the United States enforced a demand that they must be given civil, instead of military trial.

The reports of consuls show that millions of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed by the insurgents. The Spaniards appear to be powerless and the insurgents have much the best of it in the war. Much cruelty is reported.

CIVIL SERVICE METHODS.

A Hot Discussion Over the Subject in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The senate passed, without division, the bill directing the secretary of agriculture to continue the distribution of seed.

Mr. Blanchard (Dem., La.), then made a speech commending the president for the reassertion, on an enlarged basis, of the Monroe doctrine and advocated that it be given the sanction of legislative endorsement. A discussion of Secretary Carlisle's observance of civil service methods came up on a provision of the deficiency bill for the appointment of 25 expert money counters. Mr. Chandler sarcastically pointed out that the secretary's letter requesting the 25 counters asked that he be given the selection, as the civil service commission was not able to furnish the class of counters required. Mr. Allen arraigned the civil service system. It would, in time, turn over our government service to a lot of "cigarette smoking dudes."

Mr. Wolcott interjected a brief but somewhat sensational speech. He said the real menace to the country was the power of patronage lodged with the executive, and which had never before been used to such an extreme as under the present administration.

Debate on the Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—In the house the debate on the bond bill was resumed. Concurrence was opposed by Messrs. Hill (Rep., Conn.), Lacy (Rep., Ia.), and Burton (Rep., Mo.). Messrs. Dearnmond (Dem., Mo.) and Ogden (Dem., La.), spoke in its favor.

Williams, the bicyclist, who trained in this city for some time last year, has joined the Spalding team, and will ride for that firm the coming season.

Henry Chambers, of the East End, has a clock that is quite a curiosity. It is a fac-simile of the first clock that was brought to this country, and keeps good time.

Miller Brothers, of Ohioville, are drilling for oil on the farm of Thomas Smith, near Smith's Ferry. Three wells have been drilled below the depth of 200 feet.

Rev. Grimms, of Butler, Pa., is assisting Rev. Green, of the Second United Presbyterian church, at the meetings that are being held this week at that church.

The meetings at the Christian church in Wellsville continue with unabated interest and great success has attended them. Twenty-five accessions have been made to the church.

Mrs. Sarah J. Garren, of Wellsville, died at her home on Main street yesterday of heart disease. Deceased formerly resided in this city, and is the mother of Mrs. Thomas Haden, of this place. The funeral will be held Thursday.

The coal that was dumped on the river, shore before the last rise came, was not washed away, contrary to expectation, and the owners are preparing to haul it away, now that the river is dropping to a low stage of water again.

The East End pipe works resumed work yesterday morning after an idleness extending over four months. The works will probably run steady now. The flint mill is lying idle pending a few repairs that are being made, and the pottery will start up in full next week.

The Liederkranz singing society surprised one of its members, David Barnhart, on Monday night and reminded him that it was the fifth anniversary of his wedding. A reception was tendered him at the Red Men's hall, and a pleasant evening spent.

The Rovers met last night to complete arrangements for the football game with the Cleveland Athletics, on the grounds of the latter club, on the anniversary of Washington's birthday. No date with the Waverly team, of Pittsburg, has been made yet, but will in all probability be soon.

The prizes for the winners of the dog show have almost all been distributed. A meeting will probably be held tomorrow night to wind up all business in connection with the show. A number of dogs from this place have been booked to enter the dog show held at Chicago next month.

Captain J. Garabed, better known as Joe, the Turk, will conduct meetings in the Salvation Army hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, Feb. 13, and 14, at 8 p. m. These services will be of great interest to all who attend. To help defray expenses, a collection will be taken at the door.

A boxing and fencing class has been organized at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. A large number have signified their intention of joining. The class will be composed principally of business men and clerks who are in the need of invigorating exercise. Instructor Morris will do the teaching.

William Davidson wishes that attention would be given to the Ainsley building, adjoining his house, on Second street. On Monday night, during the wind storm, the building shook and threatened to collapse at any minute. Another storm of similar intensity would probably cause the structure to give way entirely.

William Heldman, of Broadway, had a brand new bridle stolen from his stable, in the alley between Second and Third streets, last night. Residents of the town have suffered a great deal lately because of the thieving depredations. Should the guilty parties be apprehended a strong penalty will be meted out to them.

A man who told a sorrowful tale of woe, called on a number of uptown merchants yesterday afternoon, and asked for money with which to buy food for a starving family. He said that he was just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever and now his wife was taken down with the disease. His appearance indicated that he was in want, and in many instances help was given him.

DEATH FLOOD IN CLEVELAND.

Houses Swept Away and Lives Lost by a Water Main Bursting.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—An immense water main burst with terrific force on Franklin avenue hill, just west of Cuyahoga river, and with the great volume of water that poured out several hundred feet of the hill, on which was located many small houses, was washed into the river.

A small one-story frame house, occupied by Mrs. Mary Ravey, 60 years old, No. 9 Franklin hill, was inundated and with its contents was hurled into the river. Mrs. Ravey was drowned.

A New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio freight was passing at the foot of the hill at the time, and the force of the water carried several cars into the river. On the cars were three of the train crew, and the men were carried down with the cars. Two of the men jumped before the river was reached and escaped, but Conductor Maloney was dumped into the river, and but for the assistance of the tenders of the Columbus street bridge would have been drowned. The engineer was badly injured.

Houses were washed along or dropped into a great pit scooped out by raging water, and much damage was done. Many narrow escapes from death are reported.

John McDermott, who lived in the rear of his saloon, corner Franklin avenue and Columbus street, narrowly escaped drowning with his whole family. McDermott carried them all to the street in their night clothes.

Edward Cotter, a recluse, had a narrow escape, his house being turned upside down.

FIGHT WILL TAKE PLACE.

So Says the United States Consul at Juarez, Near El Paso.

EL PASO, Feb. 12.—Consul Bedford, an American representative at Juarez, thinks the Fitzsimmons-Maher fight will take place. He so declared in an interview. What action he will take he declined to say, but admitted that he had received instructions as to what he was to do in the event that the pugilists attempted to meet in the ring.

Nor are declarations of the governor of Chihuahua and the mayor of Juarez greatly out of joint with those of the American consul. The gist of the Mexican official's remarks is: "If we can prevent it the fight will not take place."

From the character of the country it is believed the fighters can cross the border, bring off the fight and get back to home territory before the Mexican soldiers can reach the battle ground.

Enoch Rector, the kinesiologist man, says the fight shall take place. He says that through the kinesiograph plan is the only chance for him to get back his $17,000 and Dan Stuart his $30,000.

The final money has been posted in the hands of Tom O'Rourke, selected as final stockholder.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council, in unveiling the statue erected in the central hall of parliament to the memory of the late John Bright, said there never was a time when the presence and influence of Mr. Bright was more sorely missed than at present. He referred to Mr. Bright's great respect and admiration for the institutions of the United States and to the sympathy he felt for American people. In so doing the speaker maintained that Mr. Bright was as much honored and respected "by the people on the other side of the Atlantic as in our own country."

In conclusion the Duke of Devonshire lamented that at the present time there was no influence so potent for the preservation of the friendship between Great Britain and the United States as that of Mr. Bright would have been.

MONROE POLICY RIGHT

The Doctrine Upheld In the House of Commons.

PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT CERTAIN.

Sir William Harcourt, the Liberal Leader, Makes a Friendly Speech—Balfour, the Government Leader, Does the Same. Radicals Will Back Up Arbitration.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Radical party of the house of commons has decided to support the general principle of arbitration in any differences arising between Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. George J. Goschen, Jr., Conservative member for the East Grinstead division of Sussex. In moving the address, in reply to the queen's speech in the house of commons, said he trusted that the negotiations regarding the Venezuelan question would result not only in a satisfactory settlement; but, in a complete reconciliation and firm friendship between Great Britain and her kindred across the Atlantic.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said he was rejoiced at the paragraph in the queen's speech with regard to Venezuela, as it held out the hope that the question would be settled at an early date. He added that no words that could impede such a settlement would fall from him.

This remark was greeted with loud cheers, as it disposes of the report that the Liberal leaders had determined to make an attack upon the government's policy in regard to Venezuela, which course necessarily would have led to an exchange of warm remarks, which might have impeded the progress of settlement of the dispute.

Continuing, Sir William Vernon Harcourt said that misunderstandings, both in England and in the United States, existed and had caused ruffled feelings on both sides. The idea that America and Great Britain disputed the question of Monroeism was nothing new or extraordinary. Monroeism, he asserted, was not a principle of international law, but one of national policy to which the Americans have a traditional and passionate attachment, and it was the same doctrine by virtue of which Great Britain had interfered in various states when her interests were affected.

Sir William Harcourt also said: "I am in entire agreement with Lord Salisbury when he says the United States have a perfect right to interpose in any controversy by which their own interests are affected and they are entitled to judge whether their interests are affected and in what measure they shall be sustained. That is a general doctrine upon which all states act. Upon this is founded the balance of power and upon that ground Great Britain interposed in Belgium, Greece, Turkey and many other places. The Monroe doctrine is not an extension of this principle; it is a limitation of what other states claim to exercise everywhere. President Monroe limited it to the American continent and the United States following the wise teaching of Washington, have declared their disinclination and determination not to interfere in the controversies of the European powers, but they have declared the controversies of the American continent to be of special interest to themselves, and they will judge when and how they are called upon to interfere. That feeling is not disputed in the queen's speech and I rejoice to see that it states a wish to co-operate with the government of the United States and the only practical question remaining is whether the doctrine has been invaded in the case of Venezuela. The United States have not made any pronouncement upon this question, but have appointed a commission to inform them of judgments upon the subject."

"It has been stated that the appointment of this commission was an offense to the people and government of Great Britain. Happily, the government does not take that view. The commission is to inform the government of the United States with which our government desires to co-operate. How can the United States of America co-operate with us unless they have the information which will enable them to co-operate in settling the boundary."

"I regret the delay in the publication of the English case. I should have thought that before Secretary Olney was answered all the materials would have been ready to lay before the United States and the world at large. We do not desire to claim any territory to which we are not clearly entitled, and the question is, what is that territory? It is the business of the diplomats to come to a reasonable settlement in such matter. Diplomacy has had this matter in hand for half a century and a mighty hand and it has made of it, in my opinion. It is not creditable that a question of this character should have been allowed to fester until it has broken open into a dangerous sore to breed bad blood between two great nations. It is the first duty of the government to take measures, without delay, to heal this sore. [Loud cheers.]

"What the country demands without distinction of party is that the dispute should be brought to an honorable solution promptly. [Cheers.]

"If it is proved that the rights of Venezuela have not been invaded by Great Britain the United States of America will have no cause for complaint. If we have occupied territory to which we have no title we must not make any pretense to maintain that occupation. The question must be settled on the evidence, and what objection can be raised to arbitration of a third party.

"The people of Great Britain and the United States of America have already settled important questions by arbitration, and it cannot be admitted that this question is beyond the reach of arbitration. The government does not reject arbitration, and the only question left is the limitation of the boundary. There is a general desire that justice should be done."

Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and Conservative leader in the house, was loudly cheered when he arose to reply to the Liberal leader. He said:

"Sir William Vernon Harcourt has devoted much time to attacking views which the government has never held. Neither I nor my friends ever said that the Monroe doctrine was one to which we had a right to object. It is of British origin and I do not see any reason why we should criticize it.

"The American commissioners (on the Venezuelan boundary), have applied to us to aid them with any information we are able to give at the earliest possible moment. [Cheers.] No false pride or diplomatic punctilio will be allowed to stand in the way of a settlement as far as we are concerned.

"But there are duties requiring diplomatic enforcement. We owe a duty to our children, our colonies and those occupying them; and this country would not deserve to retain the confidence of the colonies unless we convinced them that we were ready and willing to defend them, and in a case which we are right we should not abandon them. [Cheers.]

"It is impossible to foresee with certainty what will be the general conclusions arrived at by the American commission, or by those called upon to investigate the British claim. But one conclusion, I am certain, will be reached by everyone who impartially investigates, he will be convinced that there has never been the slightest intention on the part of this country to violate the substance or essence of the Monroe doctrine. Whatever other conclusion the commission may arrive at it will most assuredly reach the conclusion that we do not desire to push beyond the due limit of the frontier of this empire has ever been the animating cause which moved British diplomacy in this long drawn-out controversy.

"If this conclusion be fairly and frankly set before the citizens of the United States one of their gravest preoccupations will be set at rest. They will feel no need to suspect, on the part of this country, anything in the nature of an invasion of a principle of policy which both sides and we cherish. "It could not be rejected if, out of this evil, should spring some general system of arbitration. If that were the issue, I should feel that all misunderstandings and evils done had been more than removed, and that a permanent guarantee of good will between the English speaking nations on the two sides of the Atlantic had been attained for all time."

Lord Salisbury, in the house of lords, said that America's mixture in the dispute had conducted to satisfactory results more rapidly than if the United States had not interfered. He believed a peaceful settlement would be reached by arbitration.

WALLER TO GO FREE.

French Government's Terms Ordered Accepted.

OLNEY SAYS WALLER IS GUILTY.

He Thinks the Ex-Consul Is Getting Off Easy, Considering His Offense—He Reports Other Crookedness on the Part of the Kansas Colored Man.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Ambassador Eustis has been instructed to accept the offer of the French government to release ex-United States Consul Waller from further imprisonment and pardon his offense on condition that the affair be thereby terminated as between France and the United States and that the prisoner based upon his arrest, conviction or imprisonment. Waller may, however, sue in the French courts for damages for ill treatment. These facts, showing the amicable termination of the celebrated Waller incident, appear in the correspondence sent to both houses of congress by the president in answer to resolutions of inquiry upon the subject.

Secretary Olney says that there is no doubt whatever of Waller's guilt, that "the evidence fully sustains the charge" and no court could have hesitated to condemn him.

President Cleveland says that Secretary Olney's conclusions "do not appear to admit of any reasonable doubt." Accompanying the correspondence, which is voluminous, is a report by Secretary Olney, summarizing its features and explaining the reasons which animated the executive in terminating the incident as above described. In the beginning the secretary gives the history of the Crockett case, showing that Waller, while United States consul at Tamatave, acting as administrator of the estate of Crockett, a deceased United States citizen, was guilty of maladministration, getting away with $1,961.

Waller tried to have the Hovas punish two American citizens on this (Waller's) charges of being spies, whom he openly avowed he wished to have revenge, which, if carried out, would have meant the death of the two. He also betrayed the weakness of a French garrison to the Hovas, and says Waller's ten months in a French prison is little enough punishment for his offenses.

If Waller wants to sue for damages in the French courts the United States ambassador has been instructed to give him aid.

The family of Waller being left in destitute circumstances the department instructed the representatives to provide for their present necessities and to furnish them the means of getting to the United States. That relief was accordingly extended to them, the charges to which this government has thus far been put amounting to $1,317.14.

CUBAN REBELS IN THE LEAD.

President Cleveland Submits to Congress Correspondence From U. S. Consuls.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The president has transmitted to the house such correspondence relative to Cuba as he deems not incompatible with the public interest. This was in response to a house resolution.

The papers were voluminous and include over 2,000 letters which passed between Secretary Olney and Senor De Lome, the Spanish minister, Consul General Williams and other consuls.

The correspondence shows that American interests have been protected as well as possible, although Spain cannot be held responsible for the property of Americans destroyed by the rebels, much of which has occurred. As to the arrest of Americans by Spaniards, the United States enforced a demand that they must be given civil, instead of military trial.

The reports of consuls show that millions of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed by the insurgents. The Spaniards appear to be powerless and the insurgents have much the best of it in the war. Much cruelty is reported.

CIVIL SERVICE METHODS.

A Hot Discussion Over the Subject in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The senate passed, without division, the bill directing the secretary of agriculture to continue the distribution of seed.

Mr. Blanchard (Dem., La.), then made a speech commending the president for the reassertion, on an enlarged basis, of the Monroe doctrine and advocated that it be given the sanction of legislative endorsement. A discussion of Secretary Carlisle's observance of civil service methods came up on a provision of the deficiency bill for the appointment of 25 expert money counters. Mr. Chandler sarcastically pointed out that the secretary's letter requesting the 25 counters asked that he be given the selection, as the civil service commission was not able to furnish the class of counters required. Mr. Allen arraigned the civil service system. It would, in fact, turn over our government service to a lot of "cigarette smoking dudes."

Mr. Wolcott interjected a brief but somewhat sensational speech. He said the real menace to the country was the power of patronage lodged with the executive, and which had never before been used to such an extreme as under the present administration.

Debate on the Bond Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—In the house the debate on the bond bill was resumed. Concurrence was opposed by Messrs. Hill (Rep., Conn.), Lacy (Rep., Ia.), and Burton (Rep., Mo.). Messrs. Dearmond (Dem., Mo.) and Ogden (Dem., La.), spoke in its favor.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Joseph Chapman, of Second street, is ill with an attack of the grip.

The Webber company will go to Toronto tomorrow night, and return to this city Friday night.

The Charles Brown, James Moren and the Fallie all passed down this morning with tows of coal.

Joseph Dillon, formerly operator at depot here, but now of Bridgeport, was in the city yesterday calling on friends.

Joseph Gibbons has purchased a fox terrier with a good pedigree from a friend in Buffalo, N. Y. The dog will arrive tomorrow.

Williams, the bicyclist, who trained in this city for some time last year, has joined the Spalding team, and will ride for that firm the coming season.

Henry Chambers, of the East End, has a clock that is quite a curiosity. It is a fac-simile of the first clock that was brought to this country, and keeps good time.

Miller Brothers, of Ohioville, are drilling for oil on the farm of Thomas Smith, near Smith's Ferry. Three wells have been drilled below the depth of 200 feet.

Rev. Grimms, of Butler, Pa., is assisting Rev. Green, of the Second United Presbyterian church, at the meetings that are being held this week at that church.

The meetings at the Christian church in Wellsville continue with unabated interest and great success has attended them. Twenty-five accessions have been made to the church.

Mrs. Sarah J. Garren, of Wellsville, died at her home on Main street yesterday of heart disease. Deceased formerly resided in this city, and is the mother of Mrs. Thomas Haden, of this place. The funeral will be held Thursday.

The coal that was dumped on the river shore before the last rise came, was not washed away, contrary to expectation, and the owners are preparing to haul it away, now that the river is dropping to a low stage of water again.

The East End pipe works resumed work yesterday morning after an idleness extending over four months. The works will probably run steady now. The flint mill is lying idle pending a few repairs that are being made, and the pottery will start up in full next week.

The Liederkranz singing society surprised one of its members, David Barnhart, on Monday night and reminded him that it was the fifth anniversary of his wedding. A reception was tendered him at the Red Men's hall, and a pleasant evening spent.

The Rovers met last night to complete arrangements for the football game with the Cleveland Athletics, on the grounds of the latter club, on the anniversary of Washington's birthday. No date with the Waverly team, of Pittsburgh, has been made yet, but will in all probability be soon.

The prizes for the winners of the dog show have almost all been distributed. A meeting will probably be held tomorrow night to wind up all business in connection with the show. A number of dogs from this place have been booked to enter the dog show held at Chicago next month.

Captain J. Garabed, better known as Joe, the Turk, will conduct meetings in the Salvation Army hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, Feb. 13, and 14, at 8 p. m. These services will be of great interest to all who attend. To help defray expenses, a collection will be taken at the door.

A boxing and fencing class has been organized at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. A large number have signified their intention of joining. The class will be composed principally of business men and clerks who are in the need of invigorating exercise. Instructor Morris will do the teaching.

William Davidson wishes that attention would be given to the Almsley building, adjoining his house, on Second street. On Monday night, during the wind storm, the building shook and threatened to collapse at any minute. Another storm of similar intensity would probably cause the structure to give way entirely.

William Heldman, of Broadway, had a brand new bridle stolen from his stable, in the alley between Second and Third streets, last night. Residents of the town have suffered a great deal lately because of the threatening depredations. Should the guilty parties be apprehended a strong penalty will be meted out to them.

A man who told a sorrowful tale of woe, called on a number of uptown merchants yesterday afternoon, and asked for money with which to buy food for a starving family. He said that he was just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever and now his wife was taken down with the disease. His appearance indicated that he was in want, and in many instances help was given him.

DEATH FLOOD IN CLEVELAND.

Houses Swept Away and Lives Lost by a Water Main Bursting.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12.—An immense water main burst with terrific force on Franklin avenue hill, just west of Cuyahoga river, and with the great volume of water that poured out several hundred feet of the hill, on which was located many small houses, was washed into the river.

A small one-story frame house, occupied by Mrs. Mary Ray, 60 years old, No. 9 Franklin hill, was inundated and with its contents was hurled into the river. Mrs. Ray was drowned.

A New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio freight was passing at the foot of the hill at the time, and the force of the water carried several cars into the river. On the cars were three of the train crew, and the men were carried down with the cars. Two of the men jumped before the river was reached and escaped, but Conductor Maloney was dumped into the river, and but for the assistance of the tenders of the Columbus street bridge would have been drowned. The engineer was badly injured.

Houses were washed along or dropped into a great pit scooped out by raging water, and much damage was done. Many narrow escapes from death are reported.

John McDermott, who lived in the rear of his saloon, corner Franklin avenue and Columbus street, narrowly escaped drowning with his whole family. McDermott carried them all to the street in their night clothes.

Edward Cotter, a recluse, had a narrow escape, his house being turned upside down.

FIGHT WILL TAKE PLACE.

So Says the United States Consul at Juarez, Near El Paso.

EL PASO, Feb. 12.—Consul Bodford, an American representative at Juarez, thinks the Fitzsimmons-Maher fight will take place. He so declared in an interview. What action he will take he declined to say, but admitted that he had received instructions as to what he was to do in the event that the pugilists attempted to meet in the ring.

Nor are declarations of the governor of Chihuahua and the mayor of Juarez greatly out of joint with those of the American consul. The gist of the Mexican official's remarks is: "If we can prevent it the fight will not take place."

From the character of the country it is believed the fighters can cross the border, bring off the fight and get back to home territory before the Mexican soldiers can reach the battle ground. Enoch Rector, the kinetoscope man, says the fight shall take place. He says that through the kinetoscope plan is the only chance for him to get back his $17,000 and Dan Stuart his $30,000.

The final money has been posted in the hands of Tom O'Rourke, selected as final stockholder.

A JOHN BRIGHT NEEDED.

Duke of Devonshire Says His Influence Would Have Held Our Friendship.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council, in unveiling the statue erected in the central hall of parliament to the memory of the late John Bright, said there never was a time when the presence and influence of Mr. Bright was more sorely missed than at present. He referred to Mr. Bright's great respect and admiration for the institutions of the United States and to the sympathy he felt for American people. In so doing the speaker maintained that Mr. Bright was as much honored and respected "by the people on the other side of the Atlantic as in our own country."

In conclusion the Duke of Devonshire lamented that at the present time there was no influence so potent for the preservation of the friendship between Great Britain and the United States as that of Mr. Bright would have been.

Potter May Have Been Murdered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Further investigation leads to the conclusion that H. Cranston Potter, the Tacoma merchant, whose body was found near the Cliff house, may have been murdered instead of having suicided. Potter was a brother of James Brown Potter and a nephew of Bishop Potter of New York.

More Gold For Bonds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Deposits of gold have been numerous, but sub-treasury officials say that they can only generalize as to the total amount, owing to the great number of small deposits and to the turning in of gold certificates. Approximately $5,000,000 more has been credited to bidders for the bonds.

THE PLAY.

Another Good House at the Grand Last Night.

The second production of the Webber Ideals was attended by a large audience, and all were well pleased. The play, "Camp 49," is a comedy drama, full of life and exciting climaxes. The acting of Miss Eva French (Mrs. Harry Webber) was all that could be desired, while Carrie Webber, as the lost heiress, did clever work. The acting of the entire cast was good, the parts being well assigned and neatly rendered. Tonight they produce a one-act curtain riser, "A Lucky Accident," and "Confusion," a roaring comedy. Miss Jeannie Tarr plays an important part tonight, and has an opportunity to display her talent.

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD WHEELS?

Once True and Stanch Friends Now Gone to Pieces.

Have you ever wondered what has become of the thousands of old solid tire wheels that were in such universal use before pneumatics revolutionized things? A reporter put the question to a dealer the other day.

"A few were converted into pneumatics and cushions and are still on the streets," he said, "and some were taken by the dealers as part payment on new machines, and are still stowed away in their shops, there being no sale for solid tires. The secondhand dealers and repairers bought a great many of them up, dissected them, so to speak, and are now utilizing the parts in repair work. The balls, hubs, spokes, axles, bolts and nuts are all useful, and at the last the old frames and rims can be broken up and sold as scrap iron."

"Some have gone to the country, and Josh Hayseed may be seen complacently peddling down to the mill for a bag of corn. Machinists use them for making models, occasionally a pushcart will be seen mounted on two rusty old wheels, and even the boys on the street take the small wheels for the making of express wagons. And the balance, I suppose, you'll find stowed away in the cellars and wood sheds of their possessors. Once true and stanch friends, they are now of no use in the world. Abandoned to cobwebs and ashes, with no company but rats and mice, they dream away their few remaining days. Once again they stand in full suit of glittering nickel, admired, caressed and praised by all beholders. Again they are on the road, bearing their masters in safety down long rough hills and through sand and mud. Once again they see the smooth, hard track respond to the efforts of the riders as they throw every ounce of effort into the last sprint, and hear the shouts of the excited crowds as they whiz across the tape. Abandoned and alone, eating out their hearts with rust, they gradually drop to pieces, too proud of their vanished prestige to give one thought of envy to the modern pneumatic."—Washington Star.

AN ANGEL IN DISGUISE.

A Burglar Conferred a Favor by Opening a Safe.

The proprietor of a large store on High street went to his place of business at an unusually early hour the other morning. In fact, the sun had not yet risen when he turned the key in the door. On entering he was surprised to find a man trying to open the door of his safe.

He stood and watched him for some time, apparently deeply interested in the proceedings, when finally the burglar swung open the door of the safe with a delighted chuckle, but happening to turn he saw that he was discovered and became very much alarmed. He jumped up and was about to make his escape through a back window when the merchant called to him:

"Don't be in a hurry, my friend. Come back and sit down awhile and smoke a cigar while I straighten things up a bit, and then come home to breakfast with me. You have done me a great favor."

"Why, how's that?" asked the burglar in great surprise.

"Well, you see, I had the combination of the safe on a bit of paper, and last night I accidentally locked it in the safe and forgot how to work it. I spent most of the night trying to get the thing open and came in early this morning to have another try at it."—West Medford (Mass.) Windmill.

The Secret Was Safe.

"Why did you talk in French to Ethel last night?"

"But there was a French lady sitting close behind you."

"Yes, but I have discovered that she did not understand a word we said."—Boston Transcript.

WHY THE PATROLMEN MISSED.

An Old Time Match With Revolvers In the Tenderloin Police Station.

"The recent order of the police board that all patrolmen shall become proficient in the use of the revolver," said a retired sergeant, "reminds me of a little target practice that took place in the cellar of the Tenderloin station house on West Thirtieth street three years ago. There was quite a sporty crowd of patrolmen doing duty in that precinct in those days, and there was always a poker game in the off platoon. The game was run on the dead quiet of course and was played in a small room in the cellar used ordinarily for storing ballot boxes and other election paraphernalia. The boys smuggled a stove down there, and a poker table that was seized in a raid on a gambling house was corralled and placed in the room."

"Now, there were two wardmen doing duty in the Tenderloin then, and as they had no regular hours they were able to play along with each platoon without interruption. They were a couple of pretty slick fellows, and it was only a matter of time when they'd have all the money on the table. Eventually it got so that the patrolmen wouldn't play with them any more, and this source of revenue cut off, they hit on the idea of shooting at a target with revolvers at 25 cents a shot. Now, some of these coppers were crackjacks with pistols, and they seized the opportunity thus offered to win back the money they had lost at poker. So one night a tomato can was set up at one end of the long cellar, and a lighted candle was placed beside it. Then the men began to shoot. Only two pistols were used, but every time a patrolman shot he missed, while the wardmen bored a hole in the can each time."

"Every night for a week the men would shoot, and always with the same result. The wardmen were winning about $10 apiece a night, when the game came to a sudden end. One of the patrolmen suddenly opened the pistol which a wardman had handed him to shoot with and found it loaded with blank cartridges. Then there was a howl, and the bad shooting of the platoon was explained. The other pistol, which the wardman had been using, was loaded with 32 caliber bullets, and as both were good shots of course they plumed the can each time. The patrolmen threatened all sorts of things, but the wardmen only laughed and held on to the money they had won. There was no use kicking to the captain about it, for he'd have preferred charges against every mother's son of them for gambling in the station house, and so the patrolmen swallowed their loss and let the matter drop. But it was a long time before they got over it, and some of them are laying for a chance to get even to this day."—New York Sun.

The Yule Log.

In some parts of Germany the Yule log is placed on the hearth on Christmas eve and if possible kept burning for two or three days. Then a piece of it is laid aside for the purpose of lighting the next year's log and of guarding the household from harm. Pieces of firwood charred but not quite burnt out in the Christmas fire are also placed under the family bed in some German villages to avert the dreaded lightning stroke, which appears in this relation to be the type of fire in its evil aspect, in contradistinction from the solar orb, the representative of beneficent light and warmth. The custom of burning a Yule log for three days and nights in each homestead is almost certainly a survival from the adoration once offered to the sun at the winter solstice.

Three centuries after the Christian era sun worship was still maintained in Brittany, and in Normandy not more than 100 years ago the household fire was extinguished on Dec. 24 and the Christmas log was ignited by the aid of a flame procured from the lamp burning in the neighboring church. This fact affords a curious instance of the probable transference of respect and reverence from the sacred fire of a purely heathen creed to the ecclesiastical lights of Catholicism. When the pagan rites for procuring unslaked fire were forbidden or fell into desuetude, the ideas to which they owed their origin and development, instead of perishing, continued to exist more or less perfectly by attaching themselves to usages and ceremonies having no direct association with them.—Gentleman's Magazine.

A Fatiguing Fashion.

A strange custom among the Bayanzi, who live along the upper Congo, has been described by explorers. Brass rings, sometimes weighing 80 pounds, are welded around the necks of the wives. At first the neck becomes raw by the chafing, but after awhile it becomes calloused, although a woman has to hold the ring up frequently to get relief from the weight. The ring is never put around a woman's neck until she has attained her full development. The women are proud of their ornament, believing that it enhances their importance and beauty.—New York World.

But Joshua Holds the Record.

Captain Bassett was the first man officially to lengthen time by turning back the hands of the senate clock in Washington. He did it for the first time March 4, 1844, by direction of Senator Wiley P. Mangum of North Carolina, then president of the senate pro tempore. This is history.—Boston Globe.

Took Him at His Word.

Employer (to new office boy)—If any one calls, James, be sure and remember that I am not in. (Half an hour later) Didn't you hear me call, you young rascal?

James—Yes, sir, but I t'ought yer wasn't in.—London Tit-Bits.

THE PLAY.

Another Good House at the Grand Last Night.

The second production of the Webber Ideals was attended by a large audience, and all were well pleased. The play, "Camp 49," is a comedy drama, full of life and exciting climaxes. The acting of Miss Eva French (Mrs. Harry Webber) was all that could be desired, while Carrie Webber, as the lost heiress, did clever work. The acting of the entire cast was good, the parts being well assigned and neatly rendered. Tonight they produce a one-act curtain riser, "A Lucky Accident," and "Confusion," a roaring comedy. Miss Jeannie Tarr plays an important part tonight, and has an opportunity to display her talent.

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD WHEELS?

Once True and Stanch Friends Now Gone to Pieces.

Have you ever wondered what has become of the thousands of old solid tire wheels that were in such universal use before pneumatics revolutionized things? A reporter put the question to a dealer the other day.

"A few were converted into pneumatics and cushions and are still on the streets," he said, "and some were taken by the dealers as part payment on new machines, and are still stowed away in their shops, there being no sale for solid tires. The secondhand dealers and repairers bought a great many of them up, dissected them, so to speak, and are now utilizing the parts in repair work. The balls, hubs, spokes, axles, bolts and nuts are all useful, and at the last the old frames and rims can be broken up and sold as scrap iron."

"Some have gone to the country, and Josh Hayseed may be seen complacently pedaling down to the mill for a bag of corn. Machinists use them for making models, occasionally a pushcart will be seen mounted on two rusty old wheels, and even the boys on the street take the small wheels for the making of express wagons. And the balance, I suppose, you'll find stowed away in the cellars and wood sheds of their possessors. Once true and stanch friends, they are now of no use in the world. Abandoned to cobwebs and ashes, with no company but rats and mice, they dream away their few remaining days. Once again they stand in full suit of glittering nickel, admired, caressed and praised by all beholders. Again they are on the road, bearing their masters in safety down long rough hills and through sand and mud. Once again they see the smooth, hard track respond to the efforts of the riders as they throw every ounce of effort into the last sprint, and hear the shouts of the excited crowds as they whirl across the tape. Abandoned and alone, eating out their hearts with rust, they gradually drop to pieces, too proud of their vanished prestige to give one thought of envy to the modern pneumatic."—Washington Star.

AN ANGEL IN DISGUISE.

A Burglar Conferred a Favor by Opening a Safe.

The proprietor of a large store on High street went to his place of business at an unusually early hour the other morning. In fact, the sun had not yet risen when he turned the key in the door. On entering he was surprised to find a man trying to open the door of his safe.

He stood and watched him for some time, apparently deeply interested in the proceedings, when finally the burglar swung open the door of the safe with a delighted chuckle, but happening to turn he saw that he was discovered and became very much alarmed. He jumped up and was about to make his escape through a back window when the merchant called to him:

"Don't be in a hurry, my friend. Come back and sit down awhile and smoke a cigar while I straighten things up a bit, and then come home to breakfast with me. You have done me a great favor."

"Why, how's that?" asked the burglar in great surprise.

"Well, you see, I had the combination of the safe on a bit of paper, and last night I accidentally locked it in the safe and forgot how to work it. I spent most of the night trying to get the thing open and came in early this morning to have another try at it."—West Medford (Mass.) Windmill.

The Secret Was Safe.

"Why did you talk in French to Ethel last night?"

"Because I had something to impart to her that I wished no one else to know."

"But there was a French lady sitting close behind you."

"Yes, but I have discovered that she did not understand a word we said."—Boston Transcript.

WHY THE PATROLMEN MISSED.

An Old Time Match With Revolvers In the Tenderloin Police Station.

"The recent order of the police board that all patrolmen shall become proficient in the use of the revolver," said a retired sergeant, "reminds me of a little target practice that took place in the cellar of the Tenderloin station house on West Thirtieth street three years ago. There was quite a sporty crowd of patrolmen doing duty in that precinct on those days, and there was always a poker game in the off platoon. The game was run on the dead quiet of course and was played in a small room in the cellar used ordinarily for storing ballot boxes and other election paraphernalia. The boys smuggled a stove down there, and a poker table that was seized in a raid on a gambling house was corralled and placed in the room."

"Now, there were two wardmen doing duty in the Tenderloin then, and as they had no regular hours they were able to play along with each platoon without interruption. They were a couple of pretty slick fellows, and it was only a matter of time when they'd have all the money on the table. Eventually it got so that the patrolmen wouldn't play with them any more, and this source of revenue cut off, they hit on the idea of shooting at a target with revolvers at 25 cents a shot. Now, some of these cops were crackjacks with pistols, and they seized the opportunity thus offered to win back the money they had lost at poker. So one night a tomato can was set up at one end of the long cellar, and a lighted candle was placed beside it. Then the men began to shoot. Only two pistols were used, but every time a patrolman shot he missed, while the wardmen bored a hole in the can each time."

"Every night for a week the men would shoot, and always with the same result. The wardmen were winning about $10 a piece a night, when the game came to a sudden end. One of the patrolmen suddenly opened the pistol which a wardman had handed him to shoot with and found it loaded with blank cartridges. Then there was a howl, and the bad shooting of the platoon was explained. The other pistol, which the wardmen had been using, was loaded with 32 caliber bullets, and as both were good shots of course they plumed the can each time. The patrolmen threatened all sorts of things, but the wardmen only laughed and held on to the money they had won. There was no use kicking to the captain about it, for he'd have preferred charges against every mother's son of them for gambling in the station house, and so the patrolmen swallowed their loss and let the matter drop. But it was a long time before they got over it, and some of them are laying for a chance to get even to this day."—New York Sun.
